Just-PatchX

Our Just-PatchX pre-impregnated liner with UV foil makes point repairs simpler. There's no need to impregnate the fiberglass yourself, and with the liner's single-component resin, you avoid the stress often associated with traditional two-component silicate repairs. You have all the time you need to position the patch correctly—as long as it's kept out of direct sunlight.

Just-PatchX is available in pipe sizes DN100, DN150, and DN200 mm. The liner comes pre-impregnated in lengths of up to 20 meters and is shipped in a sealed box. A 20-meter liner can be cut to the desired length to fit your UV Packer and has a shelf life of at least six months. Alternatively, it can be ordered in a custom length for a perfect fit.

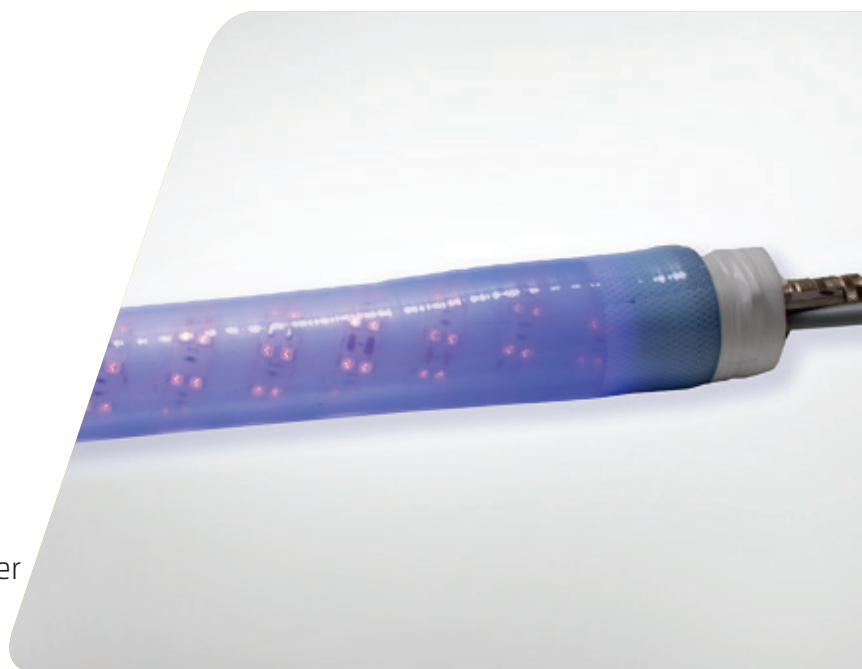

To prevent resin spillage inside the pipe—which could transfer to push rods, cables, hands, or clothing—the protective foil remains on the liner. We cut 5 cm off each end and perforate the remaining foil with our cutting roller before mounting it on the UV Packer. This ensures full adhesion at both ends of the patch, while the perforations allow resin to press through during installation, securing a strong bond to the pipe. This process minimizes resin waste during insertion.

Just-Cure UV resin

Just-PatchX is pre-impregnated with our powerful Just-Cure resin, ensuring a strong and durable bond. It is further protected by UV foil to prevent accidental curing of the resin. The resin does not shrink and adheres firmly to the pipe.
